

SARA CAN HAVE THE PLAY, IT WILL BE A RUNNING FIGHT.

any more's "Nadjesda" Translated into French for Her.

Margaret Mather's Dilemma Caused by Unmatched Slippers.

Fernand Strauss, the private secretary of Mr. Hermann, and a man of considerable culture, has translated into French Maurice Barrymore's play, "Nadjesda," which was produced by Medeska. He is going to offer it to Mme. Bernhardt, and it is asserted that he made the translation for her express benefit. Without wishing to needlessly dash Mr. Strauss's hopes to a retentive ground, it may be as well to inform him—and he is here-with informed—that Sara has seen the play, and thereby hangs a tale, and a comedy. Maurice Barrymore some years ago, when he completed the play, offered it to the French tragedienne for perusal. He heard nothing of it for a long time. When Sarah brought out "La Tosca," Maurice Barrymore was immediately interested in some of the situations of his play had been taken from it and woven into "La Tosca," informing, of course, that Sarah had shown the manuscript intended for her to the famous French playwright. All this was told at the time exclusively in The Evening Post, and caused much comment.

Anna Katharine Green's husband, Mr. Holte, has been in the city, negotiating with Manager A. M. Palmer for the production of his dramatization of "The Leavenworth Case." This is the play which Joseph Haworth talked about so much, and which he presented at the beginning of his season. He has dropped it from his repertoire. He found, it is said, that the leading role was arduous.

Miss Pauline Hall is busily preparing for a summer season of opera, opening at the Tremont Theatre, Boston. She has a new comic opera, the music of which has been written by Edgar Kelly. She has secured the services of some very good people. Miss Hall is now a full-bred.

Miss Henrietta Grossman, who, after making a substantial success in "Gloriana," at Hermann's Theatre, was obliged to retire from the cast, is going south. Her health, however, is not good, and she is wandering now playing her part in her own peculiar and extraordinary way.

Mr. and Mrs. Both left Rosina Voices company over the weekend. Mr. Both, the more aggressive of the two, have been engaged by Richard Mansfield and will go with that actor to San Francisco next month. Mrs. Both will visit San Francisco as a star and is looking forward to the trip with much pleasure.

Humor has it that Rich & Harris are going to bring "Gloriana" to the stage next season. Rumors will soon have it that Rich & Harris are going to lease the title.

Charles Dickens, the star of the "Inverness" company, was unable to appear on several occasions last week, owing to a loss of voice. His part was played by George E. May. The manager of the play, Mr. W. H. Alderson, who visited San Francisco, is a star and is looking forward to the trip with much pleasure.

Mrs. Fenoli distinctly heard the screams of a unfortunate woman, who, during the performance of "Katharine Kavanagh" at Elmer's Theatre Wednesday afternoon, fell ill and was carried away. She was very ill, and was not expected to live. "Katharine Kavanagh" is "scaled." It has met with success nowhere. The people at Elmer's are still clinging to the idea of bringing it in, and it is reported that it was another case of the "Hamlet" episode.

The play's the thing. Whereso'll I catch the conscience of a snail.

A new comedy of to-day, by Justin Huntly McCarthy, and an old comedy which has never been acted here, and has been compressed by Mr. Daly, will be played at the Bijou Theatre. And Rehan, John Drew, Miss Mather, and Gilbert will all appear.

Mrs. Margaret Mather and her company arrived in the city to-day from Indianapolis, where they have been performing this week. At a recent performance of "The Pintos" the play was sold out, and the curtain call was given to the audience.

Charles Dickey, the star of the "Inverness" company, was unable to appear on several occasions last week, owing to a loss of voice. His part was played by George E. May. The manager of the play, Mr. W. H. Alderson, who visited San Francisco, is a star and is looking forward to the trip with much pleasure.

The Prospects Heights Union, of Brooklyn, is arranging for a grand boxing show to be given at Tivoli Hall, Brooklyn, on March 26. The event of the evening will be a special exhibition of the "Twin" boxing team of the Prospects. Both men are inactive training. They will be several other bouts between the Prospects and the Brooklyn team. The Harkness Union is assisting in the arrangements. Dickey is expected to report for the exhibition.

At a meeting of the Harlem and North New York Workers' Union, held on Saturday, March 19, at Astoria Hall, there were 100 speakers, and 1000 spectators. The speakers addressed the meeting on the subject of organization. George A. Kasten was ordered to report to the Harlem-speaking organizations affiliated with the C. L. U.

General Secretary Kurzankowicz, of the Journeymen's Bakers' Nat'l Union, has organized a local in New Haven, Conn., and a branch in Worcester, Mass., one of the testaments. The referee decided against him, and while his back was turned Jack McNeish, a member of the local, struck him in the face. After April 9 he will return to New York.

The play's the thing. Whereso'll I catch the conscience of a snail.

On Wednesday morning the dispute between Sam See and Jack McNeish will come up for settlement in the court of special sessions. See acted as referee in a sparing exhibition bout at Tivoli Hall, Brooklyn, on Saturday, March 19, between the Prospects and the Brooklyn team. The referee decided against him, and while his back was turned Jack McNeish, a member of the local, struck him in the face. After April 9 he will return to New York.

The Prospects Heights Union, of Brooklyn, will be a lively place to-night. The Prospects will be on hand to meet the Brooklyn team, and the referee will be the Brooklyn team. The referee decided against him, and while his back was turned Jack McNeish, a member of the local, struck him in the face. After April 9 he will return to New York.

For the benefit of the locked-out cigarette makers a concert and ball took place on Saturday night at New Haven, Conn., and a large number of spectators attended the affair.

The Atlantic Yacht Club, of New York, will hold a grand ball on Saturday, March 26, at the Hotel New Yorker, from 9 p.m. to 12 m.

Entries for the Eighth Regiment games have been closed. A large field in almost every class is reported. The games will be held in the Eighth Regiment Armory on March 26.

The Hanover Co. has arranged for and expects to give an interesting show at its club-rooms this evening.

Cabinet-Makers' Union No. 7 resolved yesterday to withdraw all members working for the scratch at Manhattan Field on April 3, has its prominent members upon whom the hopes of the club are centered. The junior and senior cross-country championships will be contested for, teams individually, the clubs, however, are sure that their leaders are all right, if not exceedingly confident.

The Prospect Harriers are the champions.

They have captured the prize at each of the last three meetings. Their captain is old Jack Lloyd, who is working with unusual ardor to get his team into condition for the great day. Lloyd is a great runner himself, and talks very encouragingly of the men he has gathered around him.

The Old Suburban Harriers have reorganized. They will figure prominently in the Spring meeting. E. C. Carter and Tommy Collett, two veteran harriers, are hustling things for the suburbs. They have gathered a pack of sprinters that will not be far behind the leaders at the finish.

William Day, the little Jersey lad who has astounded older men by his endurance, has decided not to run with any of the big clubs this year. He has gathered a little band of cronies, and expects to see them show up in the tony.

The well-known Manhattan long-distance runner, Frank Murphy, is from the Cherry Diamond forces. He is confident from the work his men are now doing that the A. C. will not finish last.

Alfred G. Hock, of the Ramblers' A. C., is one who will see that the New York Athletic Club's interests are not neglected.
